

CLAIM AMENDMENTS

1. (Previously presented) A house comprised of:
  - a plurality of modular units connected together;
  - a plurality of exterior panels molded to replicate the look of a predetermined building material, each said exterior panel being a laminate comprising:
    - a ceramic-resin layer;
    - wherein at least one exterior panel having predetermined openings for a door to enter said house, wherein at least one of said plurality of said exterior panels is mounted to at least one of said plurality of modular units.
2. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 22, wherein said gel coat layer comprises a ceramic filler.
3. (Currently amended) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel additionally comprises a ceramic-resin layer deposited in a ~~grid-like~~ pattern of intersecting lines of ceramic-resin material resembling a grid.
4. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, further comprising:
  - insulation between a said exterior panel and a said modular unit.
5. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel is a unitary wall unit attached to one of said modular units.

6. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel is formed from an inert fire-resistant material.

7. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 6, wherein a said modular unit comprises a frame built from steel members.

8. (Currently amended) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel additionally comprises a resin-fiberglass layer deposited in a ~~grid-like~~ pattern of intersecting lines of resin-fiberglass material resembling a grid.

Claim 9 (cancelled).

10. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, further comprising:
a modular roof frame connected to at least one said modular unit.

11. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 10, further comprising:
a roof panel being a laminate comprising: a gel coat layer, a ceramic-resin layer in contact with said gel coat layer; and a resin-fiberglass layer; wherein said roof panel is attached to said modular roof frame.

Claims 12 - 20 (cancelled).

21. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel additionally comprises a resin-fiberglass layer.

22. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 1, wherein a said exterior panel additionally comprises a gel coat layer.

23. (Previously presented) A house according to claim 22, wherein said gel coat layer is in contact with said ceramic-resin layer.
